Dear all,

Good day.

As you are well aware of, our recently accepted paper in JGR Atmosphere has undergone numerous submissions/revisions. During the said process, there was a modification in the authorship. In particular, Mr. Chi-hao Chiu, whose name is reflected in the earlier version of the paper, is no longer cited as co-author in the accepted version. The editorial staff of JGR Atmospheres requires each and everyone, including Mr. Chi-Hao, to email them to confirm about this change.

The following are the apparent reasons for the above-mentioned change of authorship:

[1] Data analyzed in the earlier versions were provided by Mr. Chi-Hao. However, these data were dropped during the revision stage. Data used in the present form of the manuscript were directly downloaded from Jaxa's ptree system.

[2] Mr. Chi-Hao was preoccupied with his own journal paper manuscript when we wrote the present manuscript. Hence, he was not able to participate in the writing of the present manuscript.

In this regard, may I kindly request everyone (including Mr. Chi-Hao) to send an email to jgr-atmospheres@agu.org (addressed to JGR Atmospheres Editorial staff) to confirm that we are all aware of the removal of Mr. Chi-Hao's name as coauthor in the present manuscript.

Thank you very much.

Yours truly,

Jason Pajimola Punay

P.S. Here is a sample response:

Dear JGR Atmospheres Editorial Staff,

This is with regards to the removal of Mr. Chi-Hao Chiu as coauthor of the manuscript entitled, "Characteristics of deep convective clouds, precipitation, and cloud properties of rapidly intensifying tropical cyclones in the western North Pacific" [Paper #2022JD037328R]. I am aware and I confirm the modification.

Dear Mr. Punay,

I hope your day is going well. As your manuscript progresses from the review process to the production process, I wanted to send a brief message regarding content components that must be resolved.

-An author from a previous version of this paper, Chi-Hao Chiu, is no longer cited as a coauthor. Please have the deleted author and your current coauthors email us confirming that they are aware of the removal.

Best,
Susan Townsend
Editor's Assistant, AGU Publications
